

Rebalancing Massage

Rebalancing – balance for body, mind and soul.

What is Rebalancing?

Rebalancing literally means to “restore balance”. Rebalancing-Massage is a unique mixture between therapeutic and well-being massage. It uses advanced forms of massage, gentle touch, deep tissue work, joint release, breath and energy work to release body, mind and soul, allowing the body's natural harmony to emerge. Rebalancing deals carefully with your individual tensions and relieves you of them. You can expect a relief of back pain and chronic tenseness. You will become more flexible and you will regain energy.

We are freeing tensions in the muscles, through deep, slow and skillful strokes, which are carried out with great ease. The mobilisation of the joints remind the body of its grace in movement. Tensions and toxins which are held in the joints are released in this way. As the body releases muscular rigidities and relaxes, energy is set free. Rebalancing-Massage is therapy for the body and rejuvenation for the mind and spirit.

We are happy to book your individual Rebalancing-session.
